

International centre for underwater archaeology in Zadar library

The ICUA Library is a closed-type special library - books can not be borrowed for now, but you can use them in library with the option of free photocopying. With about 10 000 volumes on-site, the library's collections focus primarily on archaeological literature, but the part of it is dedicated to related sciences.

A significant part of the library's collection is a legacy of the famous professor and archaeologist Harald von Petrikovits, which was a donation from the German Archaeological Institute (DAI) and the Romano-Germanic Commission (RGK) from Frankfurt.

Library's collections:
